GOING ABOVE & BEYOND

This year's Pharma Innovation Awards are creating tools that elevate precision and efficiency in every step of the drug manufacturing process

■ From COVID-19 vaccines to curative cell and gene therapies to radiotherapeutics, every scientific leap is made possible by often-overlooked heroes — the manufacturing vendors who create the tools that bring precision and efficiency to every step of the drug development process.

Now in its twelfth celebration, this year's Pharma Innovation Awards winners are the quiet forces at work that not only help secure each achievement but also lay a strong foundation that empowers drugmakers to keep pushing forward and reach new heights.
